

G4C Future Leader

Constructing Excellence Awards Entry Form

Category Description

Generation 4 Change (G4C) is the young professional voice of the UK built environment industry and a driving force for change. The Future Leader Award celebrates the younger generation of construction and seeks to showcase the hard work and leadership of these up-and-coming professionals. This should be a person with less than ten years of experience in the industry (typically less than 30 years of age).

Judges are looking for entries that demonstrate:

- Active engagement within the construction industry.
- A positive impact on their peers, their organisation and the wider industry.
- A proven track record of driving change- how is the individual pushing boundaries and shaping construction?
- Examples of strong leadership characteristics- inspirational, influential, collaborative and visionary.
- A clear focus for the future, both within their own career and development and for the industry as a whole.
